

ENROLLMENT IN GRADUATE COURSES BY UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Students applying for Graduate courses must already have a 4-year degree. Current University of Providence students, with at least a senior standing as an undergraduate, may enroll in up to 6 credits of graduate courses as a non-degree seeking student with permission of the graduate program coordinator. Students wishing to pursue this option must also apply for admission to the appropriate graduate program.