TUITION

Tuition and fee rates are posted on the University website each academic year. A flat rate applies to full-time students enrolled for twelve to eighteen credits. A per-credit rate applies to students taking fewer than 12 or more than 18 credits, distance learning programs, and summer term courses. Additional fees may be required for application to the University, orientation, program participation, application for graduation, transcripts, specific course requirements (e.g. laboratory supplies), and bad checks.

Senior Citizens ages 65 and older may audit University courses free of charge. All such audits are subject to applicable class fees and must follow the University audit policy and procedure. No academic credit is awarded for audits. For those wishing to earn academic credit, all applicable tuition and fee charges will apply.

Students can add and drop courses via ArgoExpress. Timeframes for add and drop activity can be found on the Academic Calendar each semester, posted on the University website.
